"PPP Days 2012" was jointly hosted by the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE), the World Bank Institute, and the Asian Development Bank in Geneva in February 2012.

A Business Forum was held on day 3 of the event, in order to provide a networking opportunity for governments to dialogue with representatives of the private sector from around the world.

A private sector pre-brief was held ahead of the Business Forum. In order to maximize the value of the event for delegates, countries presenting at the Business Forum were invited to submit details of upcoming PPP policies and projects, which were collated in to an Information Notice and distributed to delegates.

The event was the largest "PPP Days" so far, attracting some 700 experts from 80 countries. A few weeks later, Geoffrey Hamilton, Head of UNECE's PPP programme, discusses future challenges and the importance of PPPs in improving infrastructure and quality of life.
