At the Fourth World Conference on Women, UN member States adopted and committed to implement the Beijing Platform for Action, which identifies twelve critical areas of concern with respect to the advancement of women and the achievement of gender equality. Worldwide progress in the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action is reviewed every five years by the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW).

The five UN regional commissions, in cooperation with UN Women, coordinate the review and appraisal process. With its periodically organized regional reviews of the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action, UNECE provides a forum for its member States to monitor progress and identify remaining challenges on a regional level.
