

Note for Hybrids

Note:

As the technology of hybrid vehicles is quick developing, it is not predictable what systems will be on the market, when this regulation entries into force. Therefore hybrid vehicles are excluded from ASEP for a transitional period. This will allow a better assessment of these technologies to make appropriate ammendments to the regulation text to enable a stable and repeatable testing.