

PPP:CAPACITY BUILDING AND KNOWLEDGE SHARING

PROF. Dr. Steven Van Garsse
manager of the PPP centre

The Flemish PPP Centre

- Operational since 2002
- The Flemish PPP Knowledge Centre is the junction and network organisation par excellence of and for the Flemish authorities, which advises and inspires the PPP policy, and supports public private partnership projects in Flanders.
In order to realise social added value and efficiency gain, the Flemish PPP Knowledge Centre actively unites the following four functions:
  - field developer
  - knowledge broker
  - process guide
  - added value monitor

- In its capacity of field developer, the knowledge centre provides both the Flemish government and the private sector with information on the PPP policy and PPP possibilities. It tries to promote the PPP self-reliance of these parties.

As knowledge broker, the knowledge centre assumes an advisory role (both policy-wise and project-wise) and collects and shares PPP knowledge, experiences and models with all parties involved. Shortening the PPP learning curve for Flanders is a clear objective.

The process guidance function comprises the provision of advice and guidance to the Flemish public administration in the detection of potential PPP projects and the design of these projects. The knowledge centre will not coordinate any projects itself. This remains a task of the responsible administration. However, the centre is involved in the preparation of a PPP construction, and will guide the PPP process.

Finally, the knowledge centre also assumes the role of added value monitor by evaluating the added value of a public private partnership.
