

Pierre BONTHONNEAU

Trade Facilitation Adviser

Pierre Bonthonneau is a Trade Facilitation Adviser at the International Trade Center in Geneva. He has over 10 years of experience in international trade, working with logistics services providers, strategy consulting firm and UN organizations.

Pierre worked for the Logistics division of the Groupe Bolloré where he was responsible for the clearing and forwarding activities in Africa. He also worked for the Boston Consulting Group, a business strategy consulting firm, where he was involved, among other, on the definition of export strategies for a mining firms, the development of the offshoring sector in developing countries, and the establishment of industrial partnerships between SMEs and multinationals.

Since he joined ITC as an expert in trade facilitation, Pierre has assisted over 15 countries in implementing their obligations under the WTO Trade Facilitation Agreement.