

UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR EUROPE
64th SESSION (29-31 MARCH 2011)

INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGIES IN THE CUSTOMS UNION OF THE REPUBLIC OF BELARUS, THE REPUBLIC OF
KAZAKHSTAN AND THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

Geneva

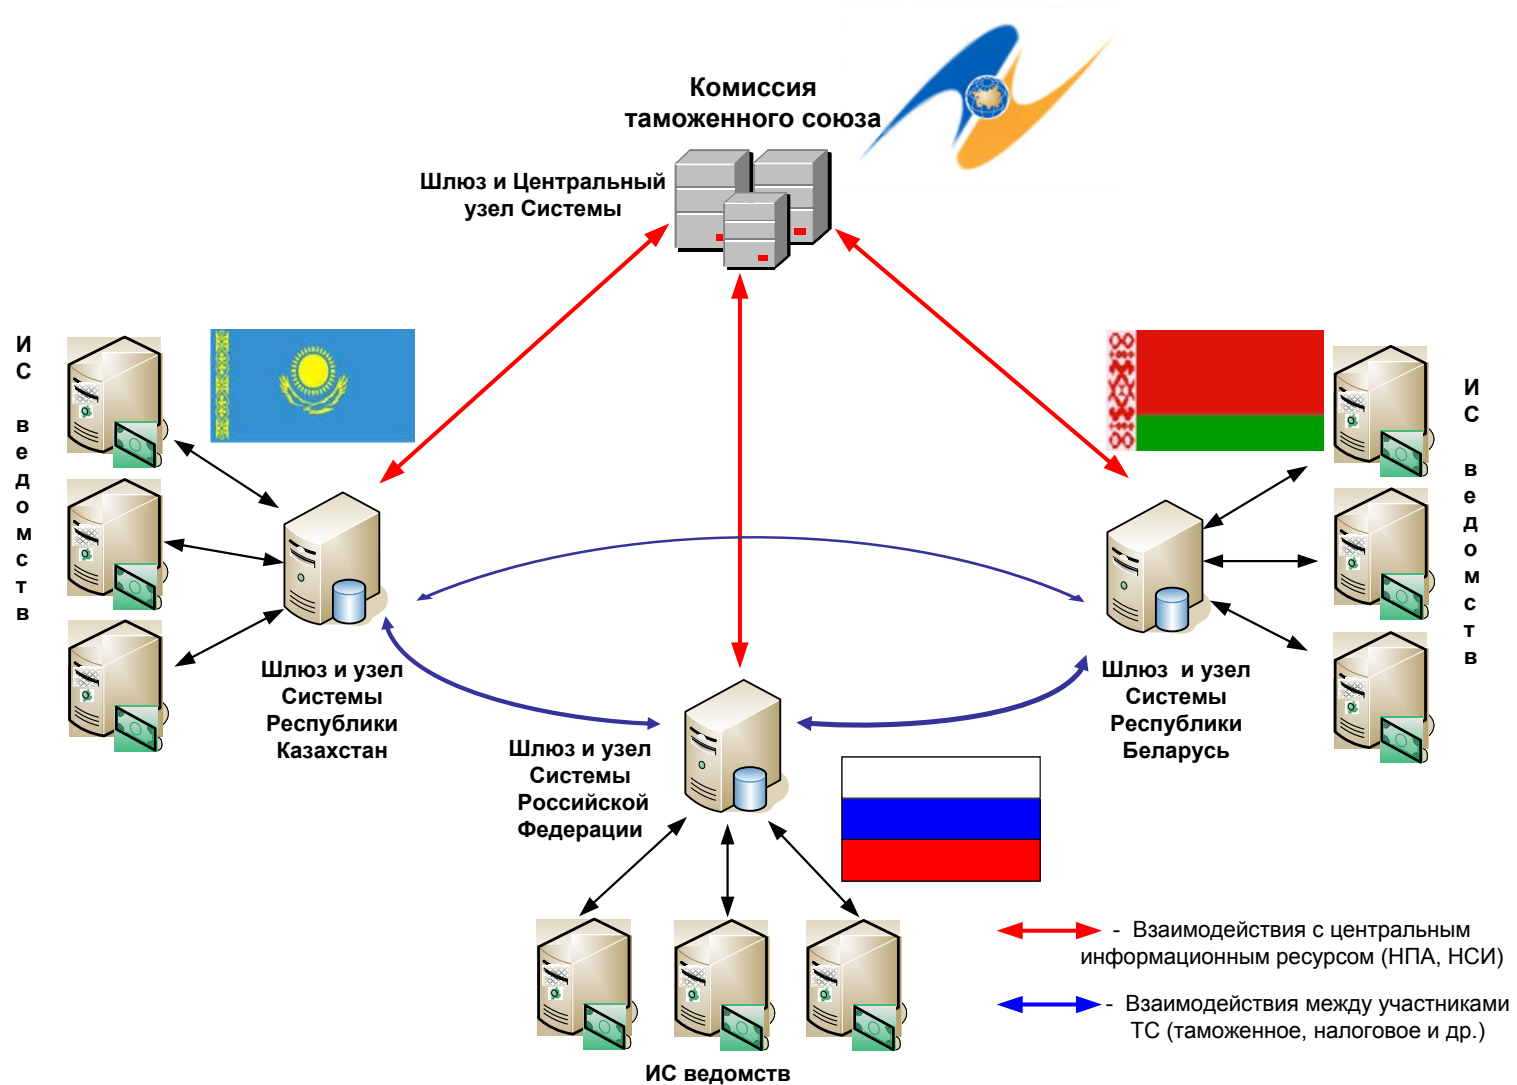

Normative legal base for the establishment and development of the IISMFT (Integrated Information System for Mutual and Foreign Trade):

The concept for creating of the IISMFT of the Customs Union;

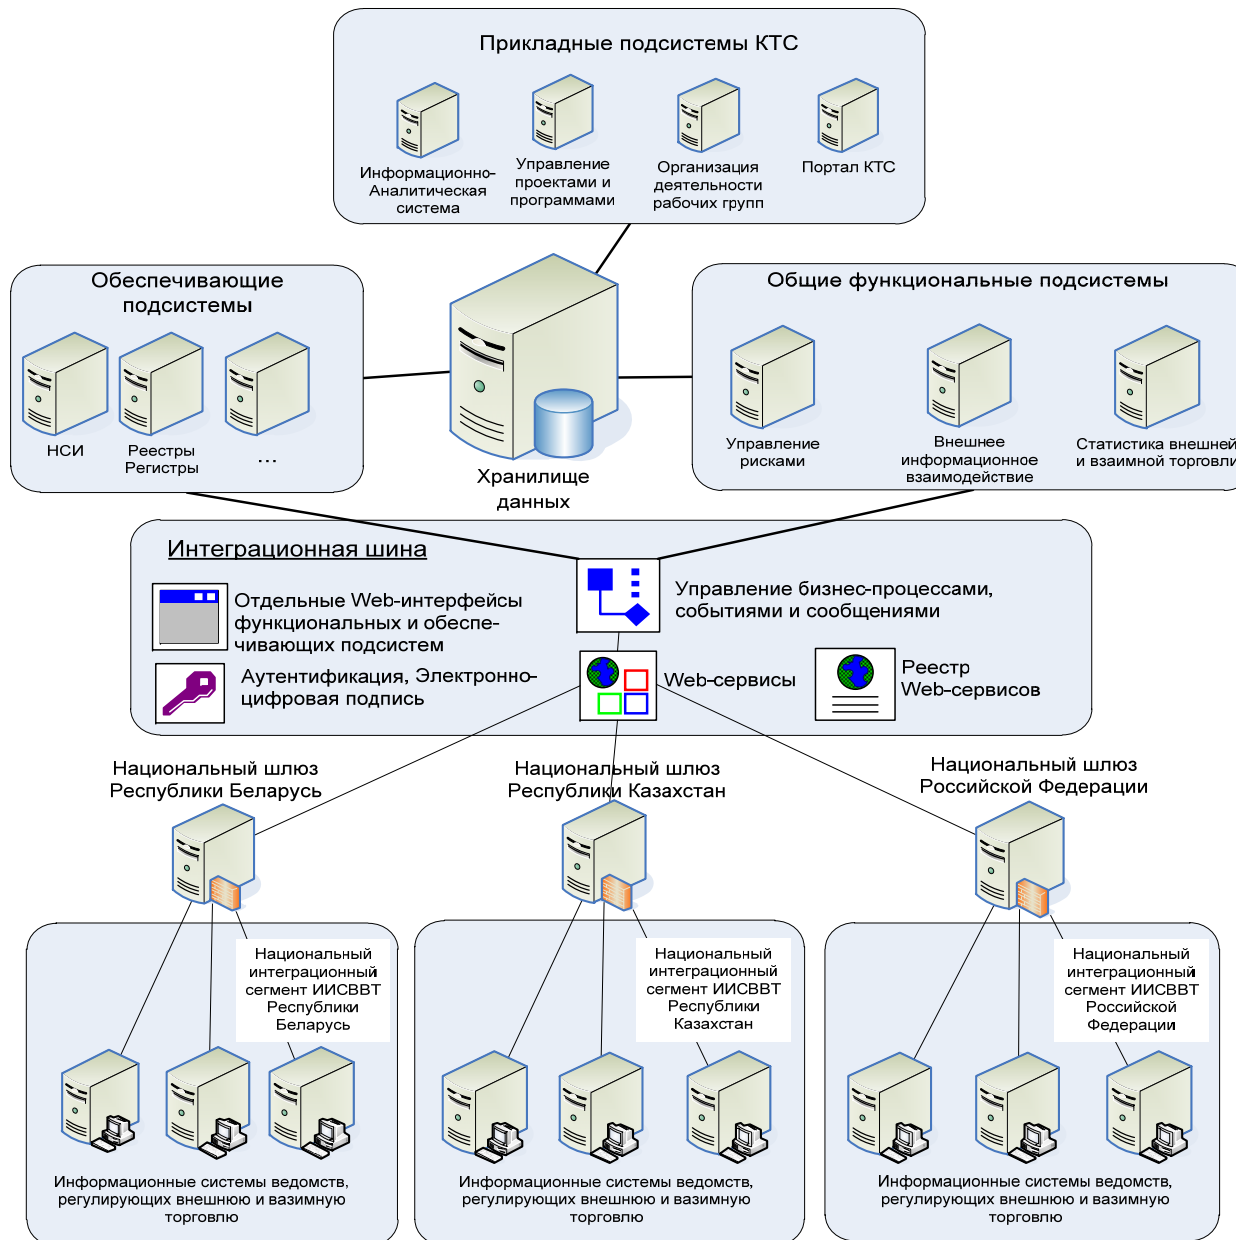

Agreement on the establishment, operation and development of the IISMFT of the Customs Union;

Agreement on the application of information technology in electronic documents' exchange in mutual and foreign trade on the common Customs territory of the Customs Union.

The overall architecture of the IISMFT:

Draft IISMFT architecture:

Objectives of the Coordinating Council on Information Technology:

- development of solutions for ensuring information security of accounting systems and general information documentation infrastructure in electronic form;

- development of the components of the overall information documentation infrastructure in electronic form on the basis of intergovernmental standards of the CIS countries, international standards and recommendations ;

- coordination of the development and testing of generic information technology solutions and hardware-software complexes within the overall information documentation infrastructure in electronic form;

- coordination of the development of rules of information documentation in electronic form, a unified security policies and regulations of the individual components and services of the general information documentation infrastructure in electronic form, as well as recommendations on how to use them for subjects of electronic interaction ;

- preparation of recommendations for harmonization of legislation of each of the Parties to the use of electronic documents in mutual and foreign trade on the common Customs territory of the Customs Union, as well as to unify the interfaces of information exchange between the accounting systems .

Information exchange:

Customs authorities of the Parties work towards the organization of information exchange;

a draft Agreement on “The exchange of information for the implementation of analytical and control functions of the Customs authorities of the Member States of the Customs Union “ has been prepared;

the Coordination Council for Information Technology at the Commission of the Customs Union has started working.