At the end of each hard talk, the discussions were summarized in terms of recommendations for jumpstarting investments in renewable energy, improving a projects' bankability and simplifying procedures in project development; overarching issues were deeply considered.

Bureau Meeting Report – GERE BMR N. 2017/1

5. The Secretariat informed Bureau members on the work undertaken in cooperation with Environment Division, within the context of the Water Convention activities, on the nexus between renewable energy and water related issues. A specific report on “Good practices and policies for intersectoral synergies to deploy renewable energy: the water-energy-food ecosystems nexus approach to support the Sustainable Development Goals” was presented at the Third session of the Group of Experts on Renewable Energy on 20-21 October in Baku, Azerbaijan. A deeper analysis which will lead to specific recommendations for concrete cooperation activities are under development and will be made available both for consideration and discussion at the forthcoming Forum in Astana and the next GERE session in Geneva.

Item 4. Renewal of mandate and Draft Work Plan 2018-2019

6. The Secretariat briefed Bureau members and other participants on the steps requested to renew the mandate of the Group of Experts and approve its Work Plan 2018-2019. At the second session of the Group of Experts on 12-13 October 2015 agreed on the Work Plan of the Group of Experts on Renewable Energy for 2016–2017 and at the third session on 20-21 October, the Group of Experts requested the secretariat to work with the Bureau of the Group of Experts to develop a draft Work Plan of the Group of Experts on Renewable Energy for 2018–2019 and submit it for review and approval by the Group of Experts by written procedure. The Group of Experts agreed that, in order to expedite submission of a draft Work Plan and other possible documentation for endorsement by the Committee on Sustainable Energy, it can work by written procedure subject to a minimum comment period of 21 days. No response or feedback is taken to be tacit approval.

7. The draft Work Plan circulated by the Chair and the Secretariat among Bureau members before the call was prepared in accordance with these decisions. Bureau members provided initial positive comments to the direction and content provided in the draft work plan. Bureau members had the time to provide specific comments by the 27 January 2017.

8. The Group of Experts will orient its activities towards the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals, in particular of the Sustainable Development Goal 7 on Energy, as part of a new sustainable development agenda and in support to the achievement of renewable energy targets of member States within the context of the Paris Climate agreement.

9. Mr. Valeriy Pysarenko, Vice-Chair, suggested to include a link to the proposal of Ukraine to the Outcome Document of the Energy Ministerial in Astana and therefore include a text along these lines: “Promote the application of a unified system of renewable energy indicators for a more comprehensive assessment - at regional, national and international level - of the status of renewable energy, including obstacles and opportunities. Such a system should allow the development of strategic actions to achieve specific goals”.
