

Questions for Cross-cutting Session

1. In the context of the major themes of this CSD cycle, how do we foster a culture of implementation to deliver real change to people's lives?
2. Education is a major cross-cutting issue for CSD. How do we use new information technologies, both formal and informal education systems, to improve technical and economic skills necessary for improved agricultural production and rural development? How do we develop extension services that reach the people who need it most?
3. Sustainable consumption and production are critical to meet the growing demands of a globalizing world while sustaining the environment? What are the roles for science research and development in addressing the challenges we face in the CSD topics?
4. How do we engage all actors in seeking sustainable solutions? What is the role of partnerships in fostering solutions by bringing together governments and major groups—the scientific community, farmers, youth, women, NGOs, and others?
