

Environmental Performance Review Programme

An Environmental Performance Review (EPR) is an assessment of the progress a country has made in reconciling its environmental and economic targets and in meeting its international environmental commitments.

Following the successful launching of the EPR programme by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development for its members in 1991, European Environment Ministers requested United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) at the Second Ministerial Conference "Environment for Europe" (Lucerne, Switzerland, 1993) to undertake EPRs in Europe's countries in transition.

The main objectives of the ECE EPR Programme are:

- To assist countries to improve their management of the environment and associated environmental performance by making concrete recommendations for better policy design and implementation;
- To promote the exchange of information among countries about policies and experiences;
- To help integrating environmental policies into sector-specific economic policies, such as agricultural, energy, transport and health policies;
- To promote greater accountability to the public;
- To strengthen cooperation with the international community.

As a voluntary exercise, the EPR is undertaken at the request of the country under review. The assessing team is made up of international experts and meets with national experts in the country under review to discuss issues covered by the review.

The report contains recommendations for further improvement, taking into consideration the country's progress since the previous review. Peer review of the report and of its recommendations is carried out by the ECE Committee on Environmental Policy.

First-cycle EPRs established baseline conditions regarding trends, policy commitments, institutional arrangements and routine capabilities for carrying out national evaluations.

From 1994, the first cycle of reviews was performed in the following countries of the ECE region: Albania, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Estonia, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Latvia, Lithuania, Republic of Moldova, Romania, Yugoslavia, Slovenia, Tajikistan, The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Turkmenistan, Ukraine and Uzbekistan.

Second-cycle EPRs assessed progress and helped to stimulate greater accountability. Emphasis was placed on implementation and financing of the environment policy, integration of environmental concerns into economic sectors, and promotion of sustainable development.

Since 2000, ECE has carried out second EPRs in the following countries: Albania, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Estonia, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Montenegro, Republic of Moldova, Romania, Serbia, Tajikistan, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Ukraine and Uzbekistan.

At the Seventh Ministerial Conference "Environment for Europe" (Astana, Kazakhstan, 2011), Ministers and Heads of delegation reaffirmed their support to ECE EPR Programme. They encourage ECE to pursue with the third cycle.

Third-cycle EPRs include environmental governance and financing in a green economy context, countries' cooperation with the international community and environmental mainstreaming in priority sectors. Since 2017, third-cycle EPRs include the review of relevant goals and targets of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Since 2012, ECE has carried out third EPRs in the following countries: Albania, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Montenegro, Republic of Moldova, Serbia, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia and Tajikistan.

The efficiency and effectiveness of the EPR methodology have attracted the attention of countries outside of the ECE region, leading to requests for a transfer of know-how from ECE to other UN regional commissions. Morocco was reviewed by ECE in cooperation with the Economic Commission for Africa and Mongolia – in cooperation with the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and Pacific.
