The aim of the presentation is to provide basic information about the administration system of the Cadastre of real estate in the Czech Republic and inform about developments in recent years. Current issues such as incomplete digitization of cadastral maps and practical application of completely new legal regulations of the cadastre administration are highlighted. New Cadastral Act came into force on 1st January 2014 bringing many changes. As a consequence cadastral offices in the Czech Republic had some difficulties in managing new procedures. New legislation also affected the deadline for registrations into the cadastre. ČÚZK further develops services for data and electronic services provision. In 2014 8 mil. outputs from the cadastre were provided electronically compared to just 600 thousands outputs provided directly at desks of cadastral offices.
