NOTE - It shall be open to Contracting Parties to omit from signs C, 38 to C, 3l the red oblique bar joining the upper left quadrant and the lower right quadrant or, provided that this does not make the symbol less easy to see and understand, not to interrupt the bar where it crosses the symbol.

(d) Notification that entry is prohibited for several categories of vehicle or road user, may be given either by displaying as many prohibitory signs as there are prohibited classes, or by a single prohibitory sign which shows the silhouettes of the various vehicles or road users whose entry is prohibited. Signs C, 4a "NO ENTRY FOR POWER DRIVEN VEHICLES"; and C, 4b "NO ENTRY FOR POWER DRIVEN VEHICLES OR ANIMAL-DRAWN VEHICLES" are examples of such signs.

This sign, if not placed at the beginning of a built-up area beside or shortly after the sign identifying the built-up area, shall be accompanied by an additional panel H, 2 described in section H of this annex, showing the distance over which the prohibition applies. It is recommended that this sign should not be placed at the beginning of built-up areas when the prohibition applies in all built-up areas and that it be provided that the sign identifying a built-up area placed at the beginning of that area shall notify road users that the traffic regulations applicable to built-up areas in that country apply from that point onwards.

7. Prohibition of passing without stopping

(a) Notification of the proximity of a Custom-house at which a stop is compulsory shall be given by sign C, 16, "PASSING WITHOUT STOPPING PROHIBITED". Notwithstanding Article 8 of this Convention, the symbol of this sign shall include the word "Customs", preferably in two languages; Contracting Parties using C, 16 signs shall endeavour to reach a regional agreement to the effect that this word shall appear in the same language on all the signs they set up.

(b) This sign may also be used to notify drivers that passing without stopping is prohibited for other reasons; in this case the word "Customs" shall be replaced by another very brief inscription indicating the reason for the stop.

8. End of prohibition or restriction

The days of the week or month or the times of day during which the prohibition applies;

The time in excess of which parking is prohibited by sign C, 18 or standing and parking is prohibited by sign C, 19;

The exceptions granted for certain classes of road user.

(iv) The time in excess of which parking or standing is prohibited may also be inscribed on the lower part of the red circle of the sign instead of appearing on an additional plate.

(ii) The prohibition of parking shall apply to the sign C, 20\textsuperscript{a} side on odd number dates and to the sign C, 20\textsuperscript{b} side on even number dates; the time at which the side changes shall be prescribed by domestic legislation and need not necessarily be midnight. Domestic legislation may also prescribe an alternation other than a daily alternation for parking; the numerals I and II shall in that case be replaced on the signs by the period of alternation, e.g. 1-15 and 16-31 for an alternation on the first and sixteenth day of each month.

(iii) Sign C, 18 may be used by States which do not adopt sign C, 19; C, 20\textsuperscript{a} and C, 20\textsuperscript{b}, supplemented by additional inscriptions, as provided in Article 8, paragraph 4 of this Convention.

(c) (i) Except in special cases, the signs shall be so placed that their disc is perpendicular to the axis of the road, or at a slight angle to the plane perpendicular to that axis.

(ii) All the prohibitions and restrictions of parking shall apply only on the side of the carriageway on which the signs are placed.

(iii) Except as may be otherwise indicated:

On an additional panel H, 2 of section H of this annex and showing the distance over which the prohibition applies; or

In conformity with subparagraph (c) (v) of this paragraph, the prohibitions shall apply from a point level with the sign to the next point of entry of a road.
(iv) An additional panel $H, 3^a$ or $H, 4^a$ depicted in section $H$ of this annex may be placed below the sign at the point where the prohibition begins. An additional panel $H, 3^b$ or $H, 4^b$ depicted in section $H$ of this annex may be placed below signs repeating the prohibition. A further prohibition sign supplemented by an additional panel $H, 3^c$ or $H, 4^c$ depicted in section $H$ of this annex may be placed at the point where the prohibition ceases to apply. Panels $H, 3$ shall be placed parallel to the axis of the road, and panels $H, 4$ perpendicular to that axis. The distances, if any, shown by panels $H, 3$ shall be those over which the prohibition applies in the direction of the arrow.

(v) If the prohibition ceases to apply before the next point of entry of a road, the sign bearing the additional end-of-prohibition panel described in subparagraph (c) (iv) above shall be set up. However, where the prohibition applies only over a short distance, it shall be permissible to set up only one sign:

Showing in the red circle the distance on which it applies, or

Bearing an additional panel $H, 3$.

(vi) Where parking-meters are installed, their presence shall signify that parking is subject to payment and is limited to the period for which the meter operates.

(vii) In zones in which the duration of parking is limited but parking is not subject to payment, this limitation, instead of being indicated by sign $C$, 18 supplemented by additional panels, may be notified by a blue band at a height of approximately 2 m on lampposts, trees, etc., bordering the carriageway, or by lines on the kerb.

The two sides of the path or track shall be clearly separated, by physical means or road markings.

(c) When the symbols are placed one above the other, the sign shall notify the relevant categories of users that they may jointly use the path or track. 2/ The sign proposed to be deleted from the Convention.
B. EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. Aims of the proposed amendments

The proposed amendments to the Convention and its annexes, reproduced in part A of this document, aim at:

(i) Improving the classification of road signs in order to make it more understandable and easier in use;

(ii) Modifying the present provisions and introducing new ones, taking into account some essential changes in traffic rules and drivers' behaviour and the progress made in the fields of traffic engineering and road sign technology during the time which has elapsed since the Convention had been elaborated.

2. Justification regarding the introduction of a new classification of road signs

The present system of the numbering of road signs and the way of grouping them in seven annexes to the Convention show some shortcomings which cause difficulties in the proper and uniform use of signs and in supplementing them by new ones. The present annexes 1 to 7 to the Convention do not correspond properly to groups of signs having the same character, meaning and shape, e.g. danger warning signs appear in annexes 1, 2 and 3; prohibitory signs appear in annexes 2, 4 and 6.

The new classification of road signs, as reflected in the amended texts of Articles 2 and 5 of the Convention, contains eight classes of signs described in sections A to H of Annex 1 (new) which replaces the present annexes 1 to 7. Each class (section) includes signs being, as far as possible, uniform as regards their meaning and shape.

The amendments to the text of the Convention necessary for adjusting it to the new classification of road signs (changes of references to signs and annexes, transferring some provisions from one article to another, modifications of terminology, etc.), which introduce no changes in the present provisions of the Convention, as regards their substance, concern: Article 2; Article 5, paragraph 1; Article 6, paragraph 4 (c); Article 9, paragraph 1 and paragraphs 4 to 6; Article 10, paragraphs 1, 7 and 8; Article 11; Article 12; Article 13, title and paragraph 1; Article 13 bis; Article 14, paragraphs 1 and 2; Article 18; Article 20; Article 21, paragraph 1; Article 22; Article 30; Article 35, paragraphs 2 and 3 and Article 36, paragraph 1, as well as headings of some groups of articles.

In consequence of the amendments to annexes 1 to 7, annexes 8 and 9 were renumbered as annexes 2 and 3 respectively.

3. Justification regarding amendments other than those caused by the new classification of road signs

Amendments which apply to the entire text of the Convention

Replacing the word "weight" by "mass"

The proposed amendment is aimed at bringing the terminology in the Convention into line with the legal technical terminology (ISO 1176 – revision).
Using the metric system only

Contracting Parties have commonly used the metric system only with the exception of distances which have still been expressed in miles in some countries.

Article 6, paragraph 2

In accordance with the provision of article 6, paragraph 2 of the present Convention road signs may apply to only one or to several lanes of the carriageway, however, there is no explanation as to how signs should be placed in such cases.

In order to harmonize the placing of signs applied to only one or to several lanes the additional provision determining options which shall be used in such cases (based on the recent practice in European countries) is proposed to be included in the Convention.

Article 7, paragraph 1

The proposed new provision is aimed at making signs more visible and legible.

Article 8, paragraph 1 bis

Modern technology affords the possibility of warning drivers of temporary traffic or road conditions using variable-message signs. Such signs may require certain deviations from rules set out in the Convention for normal signs in order to ensure satisfactory legibility. It concerns particularly the colour of symbols and background. It is necessary, therefore, to include in the Convention new provisions concerning variable-message signs which determine precisely to what extent the above-mentioned deviations can be applied.

The symbol of a sign to be used in particular in a variable-message sign system, to give warning of traffic congestion is proposed for inclusion in annex 1, section A, paragraph 24.

Article 8, paragraph 4

Annex 7 of the present Convention (new Annex 1, section H) provides for a number of additional panels, the purpose of which is to make road signs more explicit or to narrow their meaning. For other road signs the Convention gives a general description only and no graphic representation of the information. In practice difficulties have arisen in connection with the type of additional panels indicating that the obligation or prohibition relate to certain categories of road-users only or that certain categories are exempt from the prohibition or obligation. In many countries the separate message is conveyed by means of additional panels on which the graphic symbol for the category of road-user is supplemented by an inscription in the language of the particular country.
The purpose of the proposed amendments to article 8, paragraph 4 and annex 1, section H, paragraph 4 (new) is to harmonize the use of additional panels in the cases described above on the basis of rules already applied in many countries.

Article 10, paragraph 4

It is frequently necessary to place certain priority signs outside intersections, for example, at the junctions of carriageways of the same road, at the exit from a parking lot on to a road, etc. Signs B, 1 and B, 2 should therefore also be placed at points which are not intersections in the sense of the Convention.

Article 10, paragraph 6

The replacement of the text of the Convention by the text included in the 1971 European Agreement supplementing the 1968 Convention on Road Signs and Signals is intended to make the provisions contained therein more strict.

Article 13, paragraph 3

Prohibitory and restrictive signs are valid over an indeterminate distance where there are no signs C, 17 indicating the end of the prohibition or restriction. Users who enter a road at an intersection cannot know what prohibitions or restrictions are in force on that road unless the sign is repeated beyond the intersection. It is also necessary to establish the limit of application of certain signs so as to avoid making the installation of sign C, 17 practically mandatory.

Article 13, paragraphs 4 and 5

Amendments resulting from the inclusion of paragraph 8 in Annex 1, section E, subsection II.

Article 13 bis

The introduction of Article 13 bis results from establishing a new class of road signs "Special regulation signs" described in Annex 1, section E.

Paragraph 2 of this article contains the amended provision from the present Article 18, paragraph 2 regarding the meaning of signs indicating built-up areas. In accordance with the amended provision these signs shall notify road-users that the general regulations governing traffic in built-up areas apply between signs indicating the beginning and the end of such areas. New signs described in Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 7 were added in the text of paragraph 2 of this article.

Article 18

Amendment aimed at making a strict distinction between the informative signs used for the indication of a place and the special regulation signs referred to in Article 13 bis (new). Paragraph 2 of the former Article 18 was amended and transferred to Article 13 bis.
Article 23, paragraph 3 bis

In the present Convention there are no provisions concerning the rules of the placement of traffic light signals. It is proposed therefore that such provisions, contained already in the European Agreement, be included in the Convention, since the international harmonization of the rules governing proper placement of traffic light signals is essential for ensuring traffic safety.

The provision of subparagraph (b) of the European Agreement was amended in order to extend possibilities of the repetition of traffic light signals to make them more visible.

Article 23, paragraph 9

The proposed amendments are intended to explain more clearly the system of traffic regulation when arrows are used on signals and to introduce the possibility of the use of black arrows on red, amber or green background, taking into account the successful application of such a system in some countries.

Article 23, paragraph 11

The present Convention does not provide for a transitional signal (in the form of an amber light) where traffic light signals are placed above traffic lanes. The absence of an intermediate or transitional signal can be dangerous, therefore, the Convention should be amended to provide for the possibility of using such a signal.

Article 24, paragraph 5

The proposed amendment is aimed at facilitating crossing of the carriageway by blind pedestrians.

Article 26, paragraphs 2 and 4

In the present Convention there are no provisions concerning the use of double broken lines in conforming with Article 23, paragraph 11 and concerning the meaning of longitudinal lines showing a prohibition or restriction on standing or parking. It is proposed, therefore, that such provisions, contained already in the 1973 Protocol on Road Markings, additional to the European Agreement, be included in the Convention.

Article 26 bis

Implementation of strict and internationally harmonized rules on the marking of lanes reserved for certain categories of vehicles is necessary for ensuring effective and safe application of such a measure.

Article 27, paragraphs 1 and 3

It is proposed to amend paragraphs 1 and 3 in accordance with the Protocol on Road Markings, additional to the European Agreement, in order to make the provisions in the Convention concerning a transverse marking unmistakable.
Article 28, paragraph 3

A zigzag line may also be used for indicating a bus or trolleybus stop.

Annex 1, section A, subsection II, paragraph 8

The necessity to give warning of a section of the road where the shoulders are particularly dangerous often occurs; therefore the international standardization of a sign used for such purpose is needed.

Annex 1, section A, subsection II, paragraph 24

See: justification regarding amendment to article 8, paragraph 1 bis.

Annex 1, section A, subsection II, paragraphs 26 and 27

In accordance with the provisions of the present Convention warning of a level-crossing with a tramway line must be given using sign A, 26 which was clearly designed for trains, rather than for tramways.

The proposed amendment allows the indication of a level-crossing with a tramway using sign A, 27, which is better suited to this situation.

Annex 1, section C, subsection II, paragraph 1 (c)

In the text of the present Convention there are no provisions for the "no entry" sign embracing all combinations of heavy vehicles and for the "no entry" sign embracing vehicles carrying dangerous goods and signplated accordingly, as required by the provisions of the European Agreement concerning the International Carriage of Dangerous Goods by Road (ADR).

Two new "no entry" signs (C, 38 and C, 3h) concerning the above-mentioned vehicles are proposed, therefore, to be included in the Convention.

Annex 1, section C, subsection II, paragraph 8 (b)

In the present Convention there is no sign indicating the point at which the prohibition notified by sign C, 13b ceases to apply.

Annex 1, section D, subsection II, paragraphs 4, 5 and 6

In the present Convention the provisions concerning signs D, 4; D, 5 and D, 6 refer only to cases where the cycle track, footpath or track for riders on horseback runs alongside a carriageway and where certain road-users are obliged to use the track or path in question. In cases where these tracks or paths are not near a carriageway the signs authorize the use of them. The unduly narrow provision concerning signs D, 4, D, 5 and D, 6 has prompted some countries to use this sign in conditions which are not precisely those for which it was designed.

It is proposed, therefore, that the above provisions be formulated more precisely.

Annex 1, section D, subsection II, paragraph 10

New signs D, 11, indicating the direction in which vehicles carrying dangerous goods shall proceed, have already been used in many countries; therefore the international standardization of these signs is justified.
Annex 1, section D, subsection II, paragraph 11

The proposed amendment is intended to enable the indication of a single track accessible to pedestrians and cyclists or to cyclists and horse riders, or of two tracks running side by side in the same direction for two categories of users, using one sign. The above solution may be acceptable where available space is limited or the volume of traffic does not warrant two separate tracks.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 1

See: justification regarding amendments to Article 6, paragraph 2.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 7

The proposed amendment is intended to provide the possibility of indicating the beginning and the end of a built-up area also by signs bearing the silhouette of a built-up area or by signs bearing the name of the built-up area and the silhouette. Such systems have already been applied by some Contracting Parties.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 8

The present Convention establishes the principle that road signs apply to a particular road with only one exception that if the regulatory sign is placed level with the built-up area sign, the regulatory sign is valid throughout the whole built-up area (article 13, paragraph 2).

The aim of the proposed amendment is to establish a system in which the validity of road signs extends to all roads in a zone designated as such, in order to avoid having an unduly large number or road signs.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 9

Amendment resulting from the inclusion of article 25 bis in the Convention on Road Traffic, regarding special rules applying in tunnels.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 10

The proposed amendment is aimed at providing the possibility to use an alternative sign E, 12c indicating a pedestrian crossing, which has been recognized by some Contracting Parties as more legible than those included in the present Convention.

Annex 1, section E, subsection II, paragraph 12 and Annex 1, section G, subsection III, paragraph 5

To relieve congestion in town centres, an increasing number of car parks are being provided in outlying neighbourhoods to encourage motorists to leave their cars there and use public transport to reach their destination.

To draw the attention of potential users to these "park-and-ride" facilities, the introduction of a special sign bearing the symbol "Pt" with the indication of the type of transport available to the motorists concerned, is recognized as advisable.
Annex 1, section G, subsection I, paragraphs 3, 4 and 5

The aim of the proposed amendments is to harmonize at the international level rules applied to certain informative signs as to the colouring system and language of the names of places shown on those signs.

Annex 1, section G, notes at the end of subsections II and III

The amount of information given by advance direction sign G 1 and direction signs G, 4, G, 5, and G, 6 could be increased if they include symbols used on other signs. Thus, for example, the arrow on sign G, 1 could bear the symbols of prohibition signs G, 3e or C, 6 giving notice that the relevant prohibitions apply to traffic in the direction indicated by the arrow.

Annex 1, section G, subsection V, paragraphs 1 and 2

See: justification regarding amendments to Article 6, paragraph 2.

Annex 1, section G, subsection V, paragraphs 4 and 6 to 10

The aim of the proposed amendments is to standardize at the international level the signs providing information concerning general speed limits and advisory speed and notifying advised itinerary for heavy vehicles, an escape lane, pedestrian overpass or underpass and an exit from a motorway.

Annex 1, section H, paragraph 4

See: justification regarding amendment to article 8, paragraph 4.

Annex 1, section H, paragraphs 5 to 7

The aim of the proposed amendments is to standardize at the international level additional panels which have already been used by many Contracting Parties.

Annex 2, (former Annex 8), chapter II, subchapter C

See: justification regarding the inclusion of article 26 bis in the Convention.
