

ILLEGAL LOGGING AND TRADE OF ILLEGALLY-DERIVED FOREST PRODUCTS,
2004, Geneva
(Czech Republic National Report – Abstract)

Types of illegal logging regarding to kinds of violation of the Forestry Law provisions are analyzed. The estimate of the illegal logging is based on records conducted by local state forest administration authorities in the several past years. Data and results available indicate no significance of the illegal logging in the Czech Republic. The extend of the illegal logging represents less than 1 % of total harvesting noted in the Czech official statistics survey. An obligatory denotation and marking of forest products related to the location of their origin is not ordered by any law except reproduction materials. No administrative or financial restrictions are placed on the trade of forest products. The monitoring of illegally derived forest products does not provide perfect results.
