Subject: ACCC/C/2017/157 (United Kingdom) - amendment to the Civil Procedure Rules

Dear Mr. Donaldson-Balan,

At page 2 of the United Kingdom's second progress report on decision VI/8k dated 30 September 2019, the United Kingdom reports upon a recent amendment to the Civil Procedure Rules extending cost protection to planning claims under section 288 of the Town and Country Planning Act, http://www.unece.org/fileadmin/DAM/env/pp/compliance/MoP6decisions/VI.8k_UK/Correspondence_with_the_Party_concerned/Second_progress_report/frPartyVI.8k_30.09.2019_2nd_progress_report.pdf

To the extent that the United Kingdom wishes the Committee to consider that above amendment also in the context of communication ACCC/C/2017/157, the United Kingdom is invited to submit the relevant information to the Committee in the context of that case, copying the communicant, together with any submissions it wishes to make on the relevance of the amendment to the substance of the communication.

As you may appreciate, for reasons of due process, the onus is on a party to a case to inform the Committee, and the other party, of any developments that it would wish the Committee to take into account in its deliberations on the case.

I would be grateful to receive any such update by 2 December 2019. Please copy the communicant on your reply. The communicant will thereafter have four weeks to comment on the information received from the Party concerned.

Please do not hesitate to let me know if you have any questions regarding the above.

Kind regards,
Fiona
