

Jonathan KOH

Managing Director, Trade Facilitation

Jonathan is Managing Director of Trade Facilitation Pte Ltd (TFPL), a consultancy firm with specialty in trade facilitation, trade compliance & policy, single window, and customs management systems.

Jonathan has over 30 years of experience in providing solutions in arena. in many trade projects in various part of the world. He has hands-on experience in over 40 trade, customs and single window programmes globally, including serving as project director for several national projects including projects in Kenya, Qatar, Hong Kong and Greece.

His current assignments include serving as leader of the project management quality assurance team for the Bangladesh national single window; visiting scholar with the International Monetary Fund, and as an expert resource for ASEAN Economic Community project. He is also currently advising a Fintech venture involving a cross-border trade connectivity framework involving over 25 countries in Asia Pacific. Jonathan's current area of research is in disruptive technologies like blockchain, artificial intelligence, machine learning and its application for cross-border e-commerce.