The Estonian Union of Co-operative Housing Associations (EKYL)

... is an independent organization that brings together over 1400 co-operative housing associations/apartment associations all over Estonia.

Membership of EKYL is voluntary, accounting for approximately 15% of the national co-operative housing stock.

EKYL represents Estonian co-operative housing associations on local, national and international level.

It works in partnership with state institutions, municipalities, universities, private companies and NGOs.

Cooperation with Covenant of Mayors

We work together with Covenant of Mayors and Committee of the Regions.

This support group is composed of members who will set out on a quest to promote the Covenant in their countries and among their peers – other local and regional politicians.

We will try to use the strength and dynamism of these members to stress the role local and regional authorities play in climate action, to increase the visibility of the Covenant and to assert our political messages to a wider audience.
