legacy for the future represents an asset of skills and competences which have been built for decades together with its employees, a strong bond with the territory and a particular attention for environmental sustainability throughout all the production stages.
Zegna Baruffa
Lane Borgosesia
legacy for the future represents an asset of skills and competences which have been built for decades together with its employees, a strong bond with the territory and a particular attention for environmental sustainability throughout all the production stages.

“Not the same yarn stories”