2. Activities of ECE bodies of interest to the Working Party

(a) Inland Transport Committee

The Working Party will be informed about the results of the eighty-first session of the Inland Transport Committee (ITC), (19-22 February 2019) as reflected in its report (ECE/TRANS/288, paragraphs 99-104).

The ITC adopted the reports of its subsidiary bodies (ECE/TRANS/288, para. 117).

“101. The Committee noted that WP.11 had held a round table discussion on the ways to improve the functioning of the Working Party during its seventy-fourth session and had decided the following:

- (a) To explore the possibility of including non-legally binding provisions for the transport of fresh fruits and vegetables;
- (b) To increase the number of sessions from two to three per biennium, with one session on the first year and two sessions on the second year;
- (c) To extend the cycle of amendments to two years with the possibility of notifying amendments dealing with urgent matters at any time during the cycle;
- (d) Not to change the Rules of Procedure of the Working Party or article 18 of the ATP agreement to remove the consensus requirement. The Working Party:

- (i) Considered that there are other ways of increasing the number of amendments adopted and keeping the agreement relevant;
- (ii) Encouraged members to work harder between sessions to negotiate proposals and to explain clearly the reasons for rejection, so proposals can be improved;
- (iii) Suggested to consider making a clear distinction between the articles of the agreement and its technical provisions/conditions of use, to facilitate the adoption of amendments of technical nature.

102. The Committee endorsed the decision of the Working Party on the Transport of Perishable Foodstuffs (WP.11) to increase the number of its sessions from two to three per biennium and agreed to review this decision in two years.

103. Other topics of importance to keep the agreement up to date and in sync with economic, technological and political developments/challenges, were forwarded for further discussion:

- (a) Agree on a clear definition of the scope of the ATP including an opening clause/extension clause to provide flexibility to extend the scope of application if necessary;
- (b) Include in the agreement a definition of “perishable foodstuffs”;
- (c) Seek a common interpretation of the preamble of the agreement, particularly related to the quality versus safety issue;
- (d) Agree on the elaboration of a list of goods covered by the scope of application;
- (e) Adapting ATP standards and requirements to the climatic and technical conditions encountered during the carriage of perishable foodstuffs in different climatic zones.

104. Overall, it was agreed that further steps to increase harmonization on the implementation of the agreement should be taken:

- (a) A single database containing ATP model certificates may be created to help reduce forgery, misuse and to simplify the procedure for issuing new ATP certificates in the case of transfer of special equipment to another State;
- (b) Contracting parties should strive to homogenize procedures for enforcement, checks and penalties across countries. WP.11 was encouraged to analyse the way other Working Parties deal with similar problems of harmonization and implementation and take note of best practices.”

(b) Working Party on Agricultural Quality Standards

The activities of the Working Party on Agricultural Quality Standards (WP.7) of interest to WP.11 are:
